Keeping you up to date with all the latest neighbourhood news

The story so far

Welcome to the winter edition of our Cornerstone newsletter, bringing you up to date with all the latest news and information on our West Durrington development, Barley Grange.

Since 2016, we have thoroughly enjoyed watching this new community form, especially with more and more families moving into their new homes. We are delighted to share that the final phase has now been released for sale and consists of a collection of 1 & 2 bedroom apartments and 2, 3 & 4 bedroom homes.

These new homes will be reflective of the local area and fit seamlessly alongside the existing homes at Barley Grange. As part of the work on this final phase, we look forward to improving connectivity to the open green spaces and existing facilities around the site through the development of a new network of pathways.

As this new phase is constructed, you will see the distinct character of Barley Grange continue to develop. The phase will also see a new community focal point be established, 'Village Square', which will be marked by new seating for residents and formal tree planting.

Supporting the community

We invest in building communities that support local businesses, improve facilities in the area and help bring people together.

As part of the Barley Grange development, we will contribute £162,500 to bus services, £20,000 to bus stops and £15,000 to counteract the effects of carbon emissions. We have also recently made a donation to The Durrington Community Cycle Project CIC and we are proud to support the work they do for the people of Durrington.

The charity was set up in 2012 to provide and maintain a fully equipped cycle workshop for free use by the community with the support of volunteer skilled mechanics. It offers the young, unemployed and low-income participants as well as the wider community, access to donated bicycles as a means of sustainable transport.

Ian Fairclough, Director of the Durrington Community Cycle Project CIC, commented: "We are incredibly grateful for this funding boost from Taylor Wimpey Southern Counties. We will put it to good use in improving our workspace to provide an even better service to our lovely cycling community in Durrington.

"Things have been really difficult over the past eighteen months, with the pandemic and restrictions on movement meaning we couldn't open the shop fully. Every little bit really does help – not only do we repair bikes, but we also provide 'on the job' training for our more enthusiastic volunteers from the community and local agencies (such as Social Services, NHS and homeless charities) who want to learn bicycle maintenance skills. These volunteers help to repair bicycles which are offered for sale at reasonable prices to the local community."

Based in Durrington, the centre is open from 10am–4pm every Wednesday and Saturday throughout the year.
