

Join the growing community at Millbrook Park in a new Taylor Wimpey home

Taylor Wimpey is proud to be building new homes and playing a part in creating a brand new neighbourhood at Millbrook Park. The housebuilder has recently released a brand new phase of 3, 4 and 5 bedroom houses at the development in Mill Hill which also benefits from a range of community facilities.

Millbrook Park will provide over 2,200 new homes as well as almost six hectares of parks and open space with prices ranging from £730,000 to £999,995. A panoramic park, with views towards the London skyline and a play area for children, has been a popular spot for both residents of Millbrook Park and the wider community to relax in since it opened last spring. Millbrook Park also has its own primary school, Millbrook Park Church of England Primary School, which is now open and welcomes around 90 new pupils each year.

Jack Costello, Sales and Marketing Director for Taylor Wimpey North Thames, says: “Millbrook Park is a fantastic place to call home and it’s great to see the new community flourishing. With an excellent choice of new homes and brand new facilities it’s no surprise that the development is appealing to a range of people, including families, first time buyers and downsizers. There are plenty of opportunities left for people to join the Millbrook Park community and I would encourage anyone who wants to find out more to visit the development and see for themselves all that it has to offer.”

To help existing homeowners progress on the property ladder, Taylor Wimpey is offering its easymover* scheme at Millbrook Park. Under the easymover* scheme, Taylor Wimpey will help to manage the buying, selling and moving process and will even pay a contribution to estate agent fees. Mortgage incentives are also available on selected Taylor Wimpey homes at Millbrook Park.
